Subject: Community Development Commission Action on American Recovery and Reinvestment Act Funding

The Community Development Commission (CDC) discussed and took action on staff recommendations for the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) during its meeting on Tuesday, May 12, 2009.

The CDC voted unanimously (11-0-0) to support staff recommendations for the expenditure of ARRA funds for a Homeless Prevention and Rapid Re-Housing Program that will be administered by the Health and Human Services Department (HHSD).

The CDC voted (8-3-0) to recommend that $1.55 million in CDBG-R funds be used by the Austin Area Urban League and NHCD programs including Emergency Home Repair, Architectural Barrier Removal and other homeowner rehabilitation activities; $250,000 for the staff's recommendation to fund critical new sidewalks in central East Austin with the amendment to staff's recommendation that would support sidewalk infrastructure as identified in neighborhood plans; and, 10% of CDBG-R funds for administration. CDC did not support allocating funds to public facilities projects.

The majority of the CDC felt that the City should use CDBG-R funds to remain focused on the priorities identified in the City's Consolidated Plan which makes housing (owner-occupied, rental, assisted, and homebuyer assistance) a high priority for housing and community development dollars.

Please let me know if you have any questions or require additional information.

Guidance from HUD on CBDG-R Stimulus funds

1. Are home repair and home rehabilitation activities eligible uses of CBDG-R funds?

According to page 4 of HUD's May 4 Notice of Program Requirements for Community Development Block Grant Program:

...HUD strongly urges grantees to use CBDG-R funds for hard development costs associated with infrastructure activities that provide basic services to residents or activities that promote energy efficiency and conservation through rehabilitation or retrofitting of existing buildings. While the full range of CBDG activities is available to grantees, the Department strongly suggests that grantees incorporate consideration of the public perception of the intent of the Recovery Act in identifying and selecting projects for CBDG-R funding.<sup>1</sup>

2. Can CBDG-R stimulus fund organizations or activities that already receive CBDG?

- a. Again according the HUD's May 4 Notice of Program Requirements

Grantees are cautioned against commingling regular CBDG and CBDG-R funds. However, this does not prevent a grantee from using CBDG-R funding in conjunction with an existing activity funded with regular CBDG funds, where the additional funding will be covered under a new contract or subrecipient agreement.<sup>2</sup>

- b. In today's HUD Webinar on the use CBDG-R, HUD offered the analogy of a bucket of water to explain that they encourage cities to fund activities in which CBDG-R expenditures can be easily distinguished from other CBDG activities. Hence, if CBDG-R funds go into a single building already receiving CBDG, then funds will be indistinguishable. The CDC's recommendation for home rehabilitation and repair activities conforms to the HUD's recommendations in that CBDG-R would fund discrete homes.

CDBG-R funding will be tracked separately from a grantee's regular CDBG funding in the Integrated Disbursement and Information System (IDIS), will have separate funding contract language, and will have a different grant number from a grantee's regular CDBG funding. Grantees are cautioned against commingling regular CDBG and CDBG-R funds. However, this does not prevent a grantee from using CDBG-R funding in conjunction with an existing activity funded with regular CDBG funds, where the additional funding will be covered under a new contract or subrecipient agreement. Grantees will need to set up this additional increment of funding as a separate activity in IDIS.

Grantees who wish to use CDBG-R funds to expand an ongoing or already-under-construction project should keep the following additional considerations in mind.

Environmental review procedures: HUD legislation and regulations (24 CFR 58.22) prohibit CDBG grantees and any party to the development process from committing HUD or non-HUD assistance to a project until the environmental compliance review process has been successfully completed. In adding CDBG-R funds to an existing project, grantees must carefully consider the implications of the Part 58 definition of a commitment of federal funds. No new environmental review is required when a CDBG-R project has been reviewed previously by the same responsible entity, no change to the project activities or location or size results from additional funding, and no new environmental conditions have been discovered. HUD regulations and law prohibit the commitment of HUD and non HUD assistance to a project until the environmental compliance review is successfully completed. Therefore, because Recovery Act projects must expend their CDBG-R funds in such a short timeframe, it is very important to begin and complete your environmental compliance review as soon as possible. Grantees are urged to contact their Field Environmental Officer, and to

AMERICAN RECOVERY & REINVESTMENT ACT OF 2009
U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING & URBAN DEVELOPMENT
Community Development Block Grants
Staff Recommendations

Community Development Block Grants (CDBG-R)

NHCD organized a panel of senior interdepartmental representatives to rank the projects/programs submitted for CDBG-R award. Given the high precedent set by these funds nationally, the City will face heightened oversight and monitoring from the Federal government, the public and media. Staff also considered the capacity of potential project partners, leveraging for the project/program, and set minimum award at $250,000 in order to minimize City administrative burdens and to maximize impact. Local criteria for award fall into three major categories: (1) sustainable, well-financed, established efforts; (2) yield significant results for the community; and (3) tangible results for the residents, especially low to moderate-income populations and neighborhoods. CDBG-R guidelines issued May 5th set clear overall priorities to “maximize job creation and economic benefit;” specific direction includes:

- 70 percent of the funding is to benefit low to moderate-income residents
- creating/preserving jobs and promoting economic recovery;
- assisting those most impacted by the recession;
- providing investment to promote economic efficiency;
- transportation, environmental protection or other infrastructure that provides long-term economic benefits;
- energy efficiency/independence;
- minimizing/avoiding reductions in essential services;
- efforts begin swiftly (“shovel ready”); and
- “discrete, stand-alone activities.”

In addition, the federal guidelines include a “Buy America” clause that requires all iron, steel, and manufactured goods used in projects funded by CDBG-Recovery be produced in the United States. This will impact all projects proposed to some degree; staff will work with the successful candidates to ensure compliance. Using the Federal and local criteria, staff recommends awarding the $2.0 million in CDBG-R funds, as follows:

- $500,000 for Lifeworks’ East Austin Youth and Family Resource Center to purchase land to construct a green-building Resource Center at to expand critical workforce, education and mental health services to low-income populations. Significant leverage is included with corporate, public and nonprofit partners, including Capital Idea, Central Texas Literacy Coalition, Austin Community College and Casey Family Programs. The project has secured the majority of funding, and meets job creation and long-term economic development needs.
- $500,000 for PeopleFund’s Center for Economic Opportunity will be LEED Silver certified and provide comprehensive services for local businesses and homebuyers as well as affordable office space for local businesses. Key criteria met are job creation/preservation, long-term economic development, and sustainable operations as most project financing has been secured.
- $550,000 for African-American Cultural and Heritage Facility, located at 912 East 11st Street in the historic Hamilton-Dietrich House, will house ProArts Collective, a Visitors Bureau, and the Capital City Chamber of Commerce. Providing arts and assistance for small businesses while educating visitors on the cultural richness of the area is a community and Council priority project, with $1.5 million included in the 2006 Bond election. Key criteria met are job creation/preservation and long-term economic development.

- $250,000 to fund critical sidewalks in central East Austin. Many of the “Top 25” sidewalks on Public Works’ list developed with community input are in historically disadvantaged neighborhoods of central East Austin. This funding will allow new sidewalks in key areas to be completed. Sidewalks are an essential component of public transit, which is used primarily by low to moderate-income Austin residents and also will enhance the lifestyles of thousands of residents and visitors and business environment while ensuring the safety of pedestrians and people with disabilities.
- $200,000 for administration of CDBR-R.

Homeless Prevention & Rapid Re-housing Program (HPRP)

HPRP has three primary goals:

Prevention: Prevent people from becoming homeless whenever possible

Diversions: Intervene when people enter shelters and divert them into housing

Rapid Re-Housing: Move people who become homeless into permanent housing as quickly as possible

The City of Austin’s goal is to expend 100% of the $3.1 million within 2 years, ahead of the Federal schedule, in the following areas:

- $480,000 for HPRP Specialists
To identify, assess and qualify potential clients and to expand outreach to key eligible populations
- $240,000 for Housing Locators/Inspectors
To identify and inspect available housing; negotiate with landlords; liaison between landlords and potential eligible tenants; and follow-up point of contact for landlords and tenants
- $120,000 for Mediation/Legal Services
To expand current tenant/landlord mediation services and to provide services to all HPRP clients
- $1,970,000 for Rent & Utilities and Other Direct Financial Assistance
To provide short or medium term rent assistance to prevent homelessness or to re-house homeless household; replacement of identification, moving expenses, credit reports/credit repair, immediate legal assistance
- $102,000 for Homeless Management Information System
- $153,000 for Administration

These services will be provided by agencies currently under contract with the City and/or new agencies that respond to RFPs. This effort must be completed by September, in order to be obligated by September 30th.

The Substantial Amendment is due to HUD on May 18th. All interested parties are invited to make comments:

- Thursday, May 14, 2009 before the Austin City Council at Austin City Hall, City Council Chambers, 301 W. Second St.

Subject: CDC Action on American Recovery & Reinvestment Act Funding
$1.55 million CDBG-R funds to be used by the Austin Area Urban League & NHCD programs including Emergency Home Repair, Architectural Barrier Removal & other Homeowner rehabilitation activities; $250,000 to fund new sidewalks identified in neighborhood plans.

The CDC's recommendation meets the City's goal of making Austin energy efficient. It is the older homes, especially those in which low-income people live, that need assistance to make their homes energy efficient. Low-income residents can't afford to get a loan are submit proposals to foundations and various government institutions for funding.

Several studies such as the City of Austin Consolidated Plan, Comprehensive Housing Market Study (2008) and the St. David's survey of the elderly all list housing and housing rehabilitation as the number one priority and need. The CDC recognizes this need and understands the tremendous amount of funding that is needed for building affordable housing and for maintenance of current housing.

Assisting over three hundred people with homes repairs will provide basic services to residents and promote energy efficiency and conservation through rehabilitation. Using CDBC-R monies to purchase land will not serve the need of providing sustainability, energy efficiency and the creation to green jobs.

Many non-profits can advocate for themselves, some of them even have grant writers – the poor, the low-income only has one commission the CDC whose goal is to advocate for programs designed to serve the poor with an emphasis on federally funded programs. Let's make sure that we serve the poor, which have never received their fair of City services even though they too have paid taxes.

Last year the City told the East Austin Southwest Key Program, which was requesting funds to seek a low-interest loan through the City of Austin's program - let's be fair and instruct others to do the same.

The CDC's recommendation represents the projects that most closely align with the Federal and local criteria, notably job creation/economic benefit and "shovel ready."

Sincerely,
